

[[Tech-Helping-Tech]] What Is the $25 K Rule on We bull? (USA)

[USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400)

If you trade stocks on We bull [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) in the United States, you may hear about the $25,000 rule. Let's break it down in simple words, [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) person to person.

The $25 K rule comes from the Pattern Day Trader (PDT) rule. This rule is made by U.S. regulators and applies to all U.S. brokers, [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) including We bull. It is not a We bull [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) -only rule.

What is a day trade?

A day trade is when you buy and sell [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) the same stock on the same day. If you do this 4 or more times within 5 business days, [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) your account can be marked as a Pattern Day Trader.

So what is the $25,000 requirement?

Once your account is labeled as a Pattern Day [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) Trader, you must keep at least $25,000 in your brokerage account at all times. This amount can include cash and eligible securities. [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400)

What happens if you have less than $25,000?

If your balance is under $25,000 and you make too many day trades, We bull [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) may restrict your account. This means you may not be allowed to day trade for 90 days, or until your balance is back [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) above $25,000.

Does this apply to everyone?

- This rule applies to margin accounts, [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) not cash accounts
- Cash accounts follow different rules (based on settled funds)

Why does this rule exist?

The rule is designed to reduce risk and protect traders [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) from over-trading without enough funds.

Need help or have questions?

If you want to understand how this rule affects your We bull [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400) account, talk directly with a support expert.

USA Tech Support (TFN – USA):

☎ [USA] ☎ (1-844-3(7)6-0400)

Always make sure you understand the rules before trading. Smart trading starts with clear information.